CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDIT AND DISCLOSURES

CONTINUING EDUCATION

If you have paid for CE credit, please remember to complete your online evaluations, attendance forms, and also print your Continuing Education Certificate at the end of the meeting.

Accreditation Statement (LIVE): In support of improving patient care, this activity has been planned and implemented by Amedco LLC and The American Academy of Clinical Toxicology. Amedco LLC is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

Accreditation Statement (Enduring): In support of improving patient care, this activity has been planned and implemented by Amedco LLC and The American Academy of Clinical Toxicology. Amedco LLC is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

Pharmacists are required to complete their e-profile at www.nabp.net in order to obtain a NABP e-Profile ID. Please remember that you will need to submit the NABP e-profile ID and your birthdate in order to receive CPE credit for NACCT 2021.

In order to obtain continuing education credit, evaluations must be completed after attendance of continuing education sessions held at NACCT. Individuals who do not complete the evaluations within 30 days of the meeting will not receive continuing education credit through NABP.

The ACCME Standards for Commercial Support and ACPE Non-Commercialism Standards require presentations be free of commercial bias and that any information regarding commercial products/services be based on scientific methods generally accepted by the medical community. According to the American Academy of Clinical Toxicology “Policy on Non-Commercialism and Fair Balance”, all faculty, authors, editors, and planning committee members (including their immediate family members) participating in an AACT-sponsored activity are required to disclose any relevant financial relationships with commercial interests. A commercial interest is any entity, producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients. Providers of clinical service directly to patients are not commercial interests. Financial relationships are those relationships in which the individual benefits by receiving a salary, royalty, intellectual property rights, consulting fee, honoraria for promotional speakers’ bureau, ownership interest (e.g. stocks, stock options or other ownership interest, excluding diversified mutual funds), or other financial benefit. Financial benefits are usually associated with roles such as employment, management position, independent contractor (including contracted research), consulting, speaking and teaching, membership on advisory committees or review panels, board membership, and other activities from which remuneration is received, or expected. ACCME considered relationships of the person involved in the CME activity to include financial relationships of a spouse or partner. Contracted research includes research funding where the institution gets the grant and manages the fund and the person is the principal or named investigator on the grant.

There is no minimum dollar amount for relationships.

Should potential conflicts of interest be identified, AACT will resolve all conflicts of interest prior to the education activity being delivered to learners. Presentations offered by a person with a potential conflict of interest are required to submit a detailed outline of the presentation, which will be used by ACCT to confirm the scientific objectivity of the presentation. The audience will also be afforded the opportunity to evaluate whether the speaker’s interests or relationships influenced the presentation with regard to exposition or conclusion through the use of the program evaluation instrument. Faculty, authors, editors or planning committee members that do not provide disclosure are ineligible to participate in the continuing education activity.

This educational activity has been planned to be well-balanced and objective in discussion of available treatment regimens. Interpretations and opinions offered by the authors represent their viewpoints. Conclusions drawn by the participant should be derived from careful consideration of all available scientific information.

When therapeutic options are discussed, it is our preference that only generic names be used. If it is necessary to use a trade name, then those of several companies must be used, if available. Products may be discussed in the treatment of indications outside current approved labeling. Speakers are required to disclose this to the participants.

Speaker/Planner/Reviewer Financial Relationships

The following table of disclosure information is provided to learners and contains the relevant financial relationships that each individual in a position to control the content disclosed to American Academy of Clinical Toxicology. All of these relationships were treated as a conflict of interest.

All individuals in a position to control the content of CE are listed on the virtual platform. If their name is not listed below, they disclosed that they had no relevant financial relationships.
